

Posted on September 9, 2013 by Keghart

Category: Did You Know?

Ancient Roman historian Plutarch wrote that Armenian archers could kill from 200 meters with their deadly accurate arrows. The Romans admired and respected the bravery of the Armenian cavalry. Roman historian Sallustius Crispus wrote that the Armenian cavalry had the best-trained horses.

Ancient Roman historian Plutarch wrote that Armenian archers could kill from 200 meters with their deadly accurate arrows. The Romans admired and respected the bravery of the Armenian cavalry. Roman historian Sallustius Crispus wrote that the Armenian cavalry had the best-trained horses.

