GEORGE THE ARMENIAN WROTE IN GAEZ

Posted on March 15, 2015 by Keghart

Category: Did You Know?

George the Armenian was one of the most influential poets of medieval Ethiopia who wrote in Gaez, language of the Monophysites of Ethiopia. He wrote the hymn “Aragoneh-Mariam” dedicated to the Virgin Mary. George’s name is associated with the blooming of Ethiopian literature. He lived during the reign of Zareh-Jacob (1434-1468).

George the Armenian was one of the most influential poets of medieval Ethiopia who wrote in Gaez, language of the Monophysites of Ethiopia. He wrote the hymn “Aragoneh-Mariam” dedicated to the Virgin Mary. George’s name is associated with the blooming of Ethiopian literature. He lived during the reign of Zareh-Jacob (1434-1468).