

NAPOLEON AND ARMENIANS

Posted on December 25, 2014 by keghart.com

Category: Did You Know?

After Napoleon's bloody Battle of Mount Tabor (1799) against the Memluks in Palestine, an Armenian deputation met the French leader in his ornate tent in nearby Jaffa. To get the support of the Armenians, Napoleon offered to establish a free Armenia after the collapse of the oppressive Ottoman Empire. But a bubonic plague forced Napoleon to withdraw from Palestine to Egypt. Shortly after, he left for France, harassed by the British Navy.

After Napoleon's bloody Battle of Mount Tabor (1799) against the Memluks in Palestine, an Armenian deputation met the French leader in his ornate tent in nearby Jaffa. To get the support of the Armenians, Napoleon offered to establish a free Armenia after the collapse of the oppressive Ottoman Empire. But a bubonic plague forced Napoleon to withdraw from Palestine to Egypt. Shortly after, he left for France, harassed by the British Navy.

