

T.E. LAWRENCE AND DR. ERNEST ALTOUNYAN

Posted on September 30, 2014 by Keghart

Category: Did You Know?

Looking back to his life, T.E. Lawrence ("Lawrence of Arabia") wrote to poet-historian Robert Graves: "I think Frederick Manning, and an Armenian, called Altounyan, and E.M. Forster are the three most I care for, since Hogarth died." Lawrence was referring to Dr. Ernest Altounyan, whom he had met in Aleppo.

Looking back to his life, T.E. Lawrence ("Lawrence of Arabia") wrote to poet-historian Robert Graves: "I think Frederick Manning, and an Armenian, called Altounyan, and E.M. Forster are the three most I care for, since Hogarth died." Lawrence was referring to Dr. Ernest Altounyan, whom he had met in Aleppo.

