

WHEN GARBO SMILED

Posted on April 6, 2016 by Keghart

Category: Did You Know?

While filming "Queen Christina" director Rouben Mamoulian had difficulty making notoriously somber Greta Garbo smile in a scene which required the character to do so. Mamoulian told an interviewer that he had asked co-star John Gilbert and Akim Tamiroff to 'make faces' The faces they made, said Mamoulian, could have made a stone laugh. When Garbo saw the actors making faces she threw her head back and "laughed like a lark."

While filming "Queen Christina" director Rouben Mamoulian had difficulty making notoriously somber Greta Garbo smile in a scene which required the character to do so. Mamoulian told an interviewer that he had asked co-star John Gilbert and Akim Tamiroff to 'make faces' The faces they made, said Mamoulian, could have made a stone laugh. When Garbo saw the actors making faces she threw her head back and "laughed like a lark."

