

WIDE-RANGING INTERVIEW WITH MONTREAL INTELLECTUAL

Posted on October 19, 2014 by Keghart

Category: Opinions

Montreal-based Viken Attarian, a leading Canadian-Armenian intellectual who is seeking the Liberal Party of Canada nomination in the Ahuntsic-Cartierville riding in the next federal elections, shared his innovative views on a variety of topics ("political engagement", "how to enhance the role of women in society", "addressing economic challenges") during a recent wide-ranging interview with Lory Boudjikianian of Montreal. We present the segment on Canada's foreign policy.--Editor.

Other interviews may be viewed at

Bilingual \(Eng/Fr\) Web Interview on Politics

Montreal-based Viken Attarian, a leading Canadian-Armenian intellectual who is seeking the Liberal Party of Canada nomination in the Ahuntsic-Cartierville riding in the next federal elections, shared his innovative views on a variety of topics ("political engagement", "how to enhance the role of women in society", "addressing economic challenges") during a recent wide-ranging interview with Lory Boudjikianian of Montreal. We present the segment on Canada's foreign policy.--Editor.

Other interviews may be viewed at

Bilingual \(Eng/Fr\) Web Interview on Politics

